IEA Negotiation Request Rejected By School Board

A request that the Illinois Education Association sit in on current Granite City teacher salary negotiations was turned down Monday night by the school board.

Basis of the rejection was that the request was late; pay and fringe benefit talks have been in progress since April 22, and it would be time-consuming to bring additional negotiations up-to-date on what has been discussed, board members said.

Whether the IEA would be permitted in negotiations in future years was left undecided.

Some felt the organization, whose members are represented in the Granite City district by the American Federation of Teachers, could not be excluded in future years. But it was noted that the AFT could not be forced to negotiate jointly with another group. And Board President Daniel Linder opposed separate talks, pointing out the large amount of time involved.

Limit To Local Members
The request, signed by 12 Granite City teachers, was that Stewart Williams, IEA representative, and another IEA staff member from Springfield be permitted to attend the negotiations. A board discussion brought out that if IEA representatives are admitted to negotiations in future years, they would be local members rather than state officials.

During Monday's board meeting, Supt. Harold M. Kaiser reported that a satisfactory agreement has been worked out in regard to a student who had hoped to graduate from high school this spring. She will not graduate, but a plan of additional instruction has been outlined to permit her to qualify in the future; rate of credits in obtaining the credits will be determined by the student, who has been ill.

Factors in the controversy included correspondence courses and non-participation in physical education. At the suggestion of Robert Chider, when such issues develop in the future, individual teachers will refer preparation of necessary letters to GCHS Principal Lawrence McCauley and Supt. Harold M. Kaiser.

Guidance Research
The board approved participation with the state in a program under which high school guidance counselors will conduct ed-

School Proposals For Granite City District Voters

The chart below lists building bond issue and education tax increase propositions to be voted upon in the Granite City school district Saturday, May 23. Voters may support any one, several or all of six segments of the program—the five construction and site projects under the building fund, and authorization for a higher educational tax. How it will affect each taxpayer can be determined by combining taxes for the various phases of the plan.

*12-cent tax rate, if levied in full each year, could retire bonds in 12 years at an interest cost of $778,720, instead of the $1,003,800 interest over 20 years (average annual tax rate of 9 1/2 cents).

Interest could be further reduced, to $380,400, while limiting the overall rate boost to 40 cents rather than 52 cents. Fiscal experts have pointed out that a 40-cent raise could be started immediately, with most of it applied to the bond cost until the new buildings are ready for occupancy. The bond tax under this plan would range from 40 to two cents; it would retire the bonds in 12 years.

The $380,400 suggested interest represents a saving of $623,400 for Granite City school district taxpayers. And it still would provide all the extra educational tax school officials say is needed (15 cents in 1966-67, 30 cents in 1967-68 and 40 cents in 1968-69 and thereafter).

educational research in their field on their own time. Reimbursement will be by the state. Additional details are to be learned later.

With Dr. Kaiser reporting that school secretaries' pay for 1963-64 has not yet been determined, he was authorized to ask them to set up a committee to discuss pay and working conditions. Secretarial pay generally has been determined for periods similar to custodial-catereria-maintenance contracts. Settlement was reached last month on the latter agreements, retroactive to last fall.

The board employed for 1963-64 three high school teachers, four junior high instructors and five elementary teachers.

New grade school faculty members are Mrs. Nancy N. Barnett, East St. Louis, Southern Illinois University bachelor degree and eight years of experience; Mrs. Phyllis Brusati, 2211 Manley avenue, SIU bachelor degree and eight years of experience; Roger Lee Smith, 2421 Madison avenue, two years' experience (elementary physical education assignment, contingent on obtaining a bachelor degree this summer from Nevada State); Miss Beverly Walt, Robinson, Ill., 1964 bachelor degree from Murray State; and Miss Keila A. Watland, Madisonville, Ky., 1964 bachelor of music education degree from Murray State.

Teachers granted leaves of absence included Mrs. Linda Coleman, 2022 Benton street, Mitchell second grade; Mrs. Sarah J. Huber, 1708 Moro avenue, Marysville first grade; and Mrs. LaVerna Corbitt, 2817 Cayuga street, Prairie Junior high counselor.

Leave Extensions
Miss Gail Michaeloff and Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards were given extensions to their leaves of absence. Miss Michaeloff, of high school teacher, is continuing her study. Mrs. Edwards is the young age of her child as the reason for her extension request.

The name of Russell P. Johnson, 2231 East 23rd street, was added to the existing "extra board list" for possible future hiring as a custodian.

Resignations effective at the end of the spring term were accepted from Eugene Baum, Ladue, Mo., GCHS English teacher, who will resume his studies; Ross Rosenthal, 2639A Madison avenue, GCHS social studies teacher, who cited personal reasons and was said to be moving out of the state; Mrs. Shariene Barrett, 2619 Madison avenue, Central junior high home economics, whose husband has accepted another position; Mrs. Virginia Croxford, 2226 Missouri avenue, Central education handicapped, who wants to return next January if a position is available then; Mrs. Kay Headrick, Rural Route One, Central English and social studies; Mrs. Martha Solon, Collinsville, Central English, social studies and mathematics; Mrs. Shirley Stocklin, Coolidge English and social studies, whose husband is being transferred; and Mrs. Colene Schmidt, 3021 Wayne avenue, Marshall first grade teacher, whose husband has taken another position.

GC Youth Fined $250 In Belleville Court

Fines totaling $250 and restitution amounting to $75 were levied this week on a Granite City teenager who battled two St. Clair county deputy sheriffs early last Saturday on the parking lot of the Whirl-A-Way dance hall near Belleville.

He was Russell Mahoney, 19, of the 4900 block of Mueller avenue, who appeared before Belleville Magistrate William Iselhardt. He made a down payment on the fines and is to pay the remainder on a weekly basis, Iselhardt said.

Mahoney is to pay $30 for damaging the uniform of one deputy and $25 for medical attention required by the other deputy. The deputies said they were dispatched to the dance hall to break up a gang fight and Mahoney challenged them.

Mahoney was fined $100 for hitting a police officer, $100 for resisting arrest and $50 for disorderly conduct.

Blackburn Scholarship Fund Campaign Under Way

The Mary Blackburn Speech Scholarship Fund campaign has started in earnest with the delivery of 1500 requests for contributions yesterday by the committee.
Jon Dressel, president of Arrow Dressing Foods Corp., is chairman of the drive to raise $5000 to establish the scholarship at Northwestern University.
"No contribution will be too small or too large," Dressel said, adding that individuals wanting to give $1 or more should send them to the campaign treasurer, Mrs. Ruth Huxel, 2324 Edison avenue.
"We are hopeful of participating in June after teaching 45 years."

The dinner attendance will be limited to 500, and tickets are available at Graham's Book store, Fleischman's Men's store, the senior high school office and the C. of C. and Associated Retailers offices at 1831 Delmar avenue.

Your Merc dealer invites you to compare the power and fuel economy of a Merc 1000 with competitors'
90 hp
outboards

The 100 hp Merc 1000 has at least 10 more horsepower than any other outboard. It will outgun and outgild any competitor's outboard... and do it on less fuel.

In actual tests on a typical family runabout, a competitor's 90 hp outboard used 30 per cent more fuel than a Merc 1000 when both out-boards were traveling at the competitor's top speed. Of course, a full throttle Merc had a top speed of more than 10 per cent higher than the 90 hp. Even the Merc 850, with 85 hp, was more than a match for the 90 hp. That's why the only outboard that could beat the Merc 850 is a Merc 1000.

In the same tests, the competitor's 25 hp outboard used 21 per cent more fuel than the Merc 1000 when the Merc was cruising at the 7.5 top speed.

High-horsepower Mercs (Merc 1000 and Merc 850) have up in the small-cylinder instead of four big-cylinder cylinders like other outboards.
These smaller cylinders are more efficient in squeezing the most work from every drop of fuel... to give you more miles per gallon. Powerful combustion chambers further reduce fuel consumption and boost the power. Small bore, short-stroke designs also allow Mercs to be made smaller and lighter... and still deliver more power at the prop than other outboards of equal or greater displacement.

Fuel economy, speed, durability, and tremendous pulling power are engined into every Mercury. A Merc will consistently give you more miles per gallon and more miles per hour than any other outboard in its power range. Remember, only Mercury gives you a six day Mercury 48-hour warranty. Remember, also, that Mercury gives you the most hp per pound, the most hp per cubic inch,
the most miles per gallon.

Warriors Overcome Three-Run Deficit To Defeat Madison 13-3 In First Game

Granite City and Edwardsville won first-round games in the high-school district baseball tournament this week at Wilson Park to advance to today's 4 p.m. championship game.

The host Warriors defeated the Madison Trojans 13-3
Tuesday and Edwardsville's Tigers eliminated the Roxana Shells 8-1 yesterday. The tourney, scheduled to open Monday, was moved back one day due to rain.

Granite City, second in the state last season, has a 20-9 record to Edwardsville's 13-2 mark. Madison finished at 2-10.

The Warriors and Tigers split a pair of regular season games.
The district champion advanced via the 10-run rule. Williams and reliever Bill O'Dell gave up four walks and there were three errors, so the Warriors needed only two hits—simples by Karandjoff and Lee to stage the uprising. Lee's hit ended the game.

Wintfeld, who pitched shutout ball during a double by Rendell and a lead-off triple in the fifth by Dillon, gained the victory—his fifth of the season without loss.

young Chuck Mazzola of Collinsville. The feat was accomplished on lanes 19 and 20, scene of the tournament's first 300 on May 2 by Paul Stafford of Edwardsville.

Mazzola's effort was the third 300 game this year in Granite City. The first was by Les Mc-Divoy of St. Louis in league play at Tri-M Bowl.

Tennis Team 3rd In Southwestern

Maxvill Accepts Demotion— Joins Cardinals' Farm Club

Dal Maxvill, Granite City shortstop owned by the St.
Louis Cardinals, yesterday reported to the Jacksonville (Fla.) farm club of the International League.

Maxvill, 25, who played for Granite City high school and the local Sacred Heart amateur team, had been at his home here since May 5, when the Cards announced his assignment to the minor leagues.

Reportedly, Maxvill had been pondering the advisability of leaving baseball for a job in electrical engineering. He holds a degree in that field from Washington University and was a part-time faculty member at the college.

Tagged with a "good-field, no-hit" label, the 5-feet-11, 160-pounder has been playing in the shadow of veteran Dick Groat. Maxvill played in 78 games for the Cards in 1962 after being called up from Tulsa, where he hit
.348. He batted .222 for the parent club.

Spending the entire 1963 season with St. Louis, he played in 59 games and had a .235 batting average and a .971 fielding mark. He had been used in spot appearances this season.

Veteran baseball men have speculated that Maxvill could hit adequately in the major leagues if given a chance to play regularly. He plays third base and second base as well as shortstop.

The Cardinals apparently demoted the slick infielder because options had expired on first baseman Jeff Long, shortstop Jerry Buckch and outfielder Doug Clemens.
Had they been demoted, other major league clubs could have claimed them at next winter's draft meeting.

Maxvill's wife told the Press-Record today that her husband and Cardinals officials "came to a few terms" and he joined the team in Syracuse, N. Y., yesterday. The Maxvills have a 3½-year-old daughter and a son, born 3½ months ago.

Begin Higher Pay
The board authorized payments to be started to custodians, cafeteria workers, drivers, carpenters, truck drivers and a laborer on the basis of agreements reached last month, retroactive to July 1. Exact wording of new agreements is still being discussed.

It was decided to withhold until Friday of this week a decision on whether to leave the board's June 14, 1962, action intact. The decision then was to rotate deposits of school funds each two years between the First Granite City National Bank and the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, with the Trust Bank having them through July 1 of this year.

Board President Daniel Linder said bank officials may reach an agreement this week relating to deposits of area governmental agencies. Several board members said they favor following the initial rotation plan but would delay action until Friday when the board is to be polled.

Burglary, Theft Charges Filed Against James Poe

Burglary and theft charges were filed Monday afternoon against James D. Poe, 22, of 1648 Maple street, and against a 15-year-old juvenile in connection with a burglary early Monday at Smitty's Bar-B-Q, 2726 N. Main road.

Poe was held on $5000 property bond set by Magistrate Gasparovic. A preliminary hearing set for yesterday was continued for a week.

The juvenile waived a hearing and was released on authority of the judge.

Poe is awaiting trial on an indictment charging burglary and theft at Johnson's Music store on Feb. 8 when a safe was stolen. The trial is set for June 1. He has been at liberty from a Missouri court on an appeal bond following a conviction there.

Bonds of $5000 also were set for three other defendants charged with burglary and theft Monday. They are David Hastings, 17, of 4708 Kirkpatrick Homes; William Eugene Everts, 19, of 2227 East 24th street; and David Edward Gann, 18, of 2200 Terminal avenue. All three were released.

They were arrested early Saturday in connection with a burglary at the Parkway confectory, 27th and Buxton streets, that morning. Everts previously was indicted for robbing two Granite City newsboys last December but the case was never prosecuted. Hastings was involved with him in that case.

Chairmen Talk of Buses, Dogs, Dump

City Hopeful of Early Approval for Budget

Early adoption of the city's 1964-65 budget was urged Monday night by Alderman Paul Rutledge, chairman of the Granite City Council's Finance Committee, at the conclusion of Monday night's unofficial meeting of the committee chairmen.

Rutledge said department heads and chairmen are compiling data and he is hopeful of a June 1 passage date. The city has three months after the start of its fiscal year (May 1) in which to adopt a new budget. No figures are yet available.

Monday night's meeting was attended by Donald Partney, Samuel Whitner, Ford Johnson, Charles W. Moerlein, G. H. Sternberg, William McGee, and Rutledge. In addition, City Building Inspector Earl Bloomquist was present.

Other topics ranged from dog problems throughout the city, lack of progress in the Nankook road widening program, air pollution and the city's own dump.

McGee said that in recent weeks he has received over a hundred complaints on dogs in the Sixth Ward and that he has been unable to get results from the dog catcher.

McGee and several chairmen said they were unable to get any cooperation from the dog catcher, Scott Craycraft, and that individuals were telling them of having difficulty in getting results from dog complaints made at the city hall.

The dog problem is to be brought up at next Monday night's council session, and Mayor Davis will be asked not only to direct the dog catcher to begin pickups of all strays. It was pointed out the city has a muzzle-leash ordinance which should be enforced.

The chairmen criticized the mayor for failing to follow through on dog complaints, many of which are received at the city hall, and also for failure to follow through on the long-avowed Nankook road widening project.

Requested Month Ago
Alderman Whitner said the city should have been making some headway toward complying with the state law banning open dumps after Aug. 26. "It was a month ago that we asked the mayor to confer with Madison Mayor Maers on the possibility of going into a joint program for building an incinerator," Whitner said.

"The mayor should have done this several weeks ago," Whitner added, saying the mayor's job pays $9000 a year and that amount is adequate for attending any of the Air Pollution Study committee meetings or for offering assistance in any way.

"You'd think he'd show some interest at least," Whitner added. "The method of trench earth fill for disposal of garbage and trash is not feasible at the low-lying swamp area where the dump is located. Alderman Rutledge pointed out. He said water was reached at three or four feet.

Complaints On Buses
Alderman Sternberg said they have begun receiving complaints concerning the quality of bus stops.

"They'll probably have a petition being set up by the Bi-State Transit System," Johnson said.

Sternberg said that he had received complaints from residents at 27th street and Delmar avenue, and he added that it was unlikely the city would give permission for removal of bus meters on Delmar avenue at the northeast corners of 19th and 20th streets for bus routes for northbound express buses.

Discussing air pollution, the chairmen plan to ask the Special

Study committee to write letters to local industries calling for compliance with the city's antismoke ordinance and to learn what steps the industries plan to take to curb air pollution.

McGee pointed out the city has an air pollution problem with its own dump, in that garbage and trash are burned there. Moerlein reported the Special Pollution Study committee is continuing to meet with the bond attorney and fiscal agent and is seeking another meeting to secure progress reports on the preparation of the rate ordinance setting monthly fees for homes, businesses and industries.

Fund Transfer Needed
"We need to progress more rapidly in order to meet our lines," he pointed out, adding that the fiscal agent also has posed a problem which will require a transfer of funds to begin wiping out a large deficit of over $300,000 in the sewer maintenance fund.

Moerlein said the agent advised the committee that the deficit, with no effort made by the city to reduce it, could cause bond holders to seek higher interest rates. The chairman added that no figure was given.

Johnson said a number of residents of Cloverview do not want the buses running on their streets and point out there are no sidewalks at the bus stops.

"They'll probably have a petition being set up by the Bi-State Transit System," Johnson said.

Sternberg said that he had received complaints from residents at 27th street and Delmar avenue, and he added that it was unlikely the city would give permission for removal of bus meters on Delmar avenue at the northeast corners of 19th and 20th streets for bus routes for northbound express buses.

Discussing air pollution, the chairmen plan to ask the Special

Madison Ends Fiscal Year With Balance of $125,456

The city of Madison had a cash balance of $125,456 at the end of the fiscal year April 30, a worksheet on receipts and expenditures distributed at the Madison city council meeting Tuesday night showed.

Receipts totaled $1,080,615, including a May 1, 1963 balance of $102,960, and expenditures totaled $955,159.

Receipts included $203,863 in corporate taxes, $100,000 the city receives annually from the Chain of Rocks Bridge fund, another $70,000 from the bridge fund for its storm water sewer project now nearing completion, $42,290 in sales tax, $50,875 in interest on short-term investments in time certificates, $18,123 in motor fuel taxes and $17,845 in retail liquor licenses.

Expenditures included $406,308 for storm water sewers, $116,063 for the police department, $19,178 for the fire department, $58,493 for streets and alleys, $10,537 for the executive and legislative branches, $12,410 for public buildings, $12,410 for finance and accounting department, $55,453 for street lighting, $17,065 for garbage collection, $38,216 for municipal retirement funds, $27,450 for motor fuel tax projects, $10,043 for police pension payments, $18,899 for bonds and interest, $12,741 for the public library and $21,631 for playgrounds and recreation.

Balances include $18,712 in the general fund, $13,302 in the police pension fund, $54,536 in the library fund, $3,319 in the corporate bond fund, $4,837 in the playground recreation fund, $6,981 in the motor fuel tax fund, $38,551 in the fire insurance fund, $314 in the special improvement fund and $68,991 in the special revenue fund.

Mayor Stephen Macrae noted that the city normally has an operating budget of $400,000, while corporate taxes were $203,863, the remainder comes from the $100,000 annually from bridge operations and the rest in other income, including interest on investments, sales taxes, licenses and other sources.

11 Carpenter Apprentice Graduates

The importance of participation in local union activities and keeping close watch on state and federal legislation that concerns labor was stressed by Lloyd McBride, guest speaker at the annual apprenticeship completion banquet Tuesday given by the Carpenters District Council of Madison County and vicinity.

The steak dinner, at Granite City high school cafeteria, was attended by about 150 carpenters, their wives and school officials as well as the 11 graduating apprentices.

McBride, subdistrict director of the United Steelworkers, told the new journeyman carpenters that their efforts will keep unions strong and help in the fight against open shop and restrictive labor unions. He pointed out that unions have continued to grow—at a slower pace—despite the Taft-Hartley Act, but that the number of members lost to the labor movement through the restrictive legislation is not known. "We must be involved in politics," he added.

Battle Against Open Shop. He urged a never-ending battle against open shop and right-to-work legislation. "Right-to-work legislation has been introduced at almost every session of the Illinois General Assembly since the Taft-Hartley Act was passed. We can be thankful it has not passed in states where it has, standards of living and working conditions and wages are under those we have in Illinois."

Other speakers included W. O. Hays, secretary-treasurer of the council, who announced that he would be retiring in the near future after more than 50 years as a carpenter and a union official. He praised the apprentice program and the committees and schools that aided the training program.

Journeyman carpenter certificates were presented to the graduates by Wilbur G. Ruch, field representative of the Bureau of Apprenticeship & Training, U.S. Department of Labor, whose office is in Alton. E. P. Ellberg, business agent for Local 633 and chairman of the organization of the District Council, presented each man with a gift.

New Journeyman. The new carpenters are Joseph Mizel of Granite City, William Bowen of East St. Louis, Arthur Gaudier of Moro, William R. Harlow of Alton, Thomas Opel and Harold Reisinger of Wood River, Ronald Short of Brighton, James Soehke of Collinsville and Kenneth Ziegler of Troy.

Several speakers said the local districts should not be burdened with further taxation and that the proposed free tuition idea be dropped. They proposed that tuition along with state and federal aid support the institutions.

Porter Cawley, 2215 Edison avenue, represented the Southern Western Area Council of the American Federation of Teachers. He urged the proposed scholarship system for future college-level teachers in Illinois be broadened to include second- and elementary school teachers.

Challenges Taxation. Cawley also challenged local taxation for junior college operations. He said Granite City is extremely hard-pressed to provide adequate classrooms for its grade and high schools and could not be expected to take on the extra burden of sharing junior college expenses.

Other speakers warned the board not to allow lower standards at the junior college level, thus diluting the purpose of the two-year schools. William Horstman of Collinsville, secretary for the Southern Illinois Business Representatives Council, and Frank Mansfield of East St. Louis, representing the East Side Associated Industries, urged the board to consider addition of adult technical training in the master plan.

Others who spoke included two state representatives—Lloyd "Curly" Harris of Granite City and William H. Efrim, editor of the East St. Louis Journal; Eugene Redmond, editor of the SIU student newspaper; J. B. Johnson, superintendent of Alton schools and Leo Cohen, SIU professor of economics. Delyte W. Morris, president of SIU, made closing remarks.

mentary school (site purchase and construction), plus a 40-cent educational rate increase, the tax rate would be $11.25 or $13 per $100 of taxes. The biggest proposed building project, a new junior high school, accounts for the other $1.75 or $2.

While a choice is provided in deciding among the five building fund ballot propositions, voters must approve or reject the full 40-cent educational rate authorization.

$2.32 Current School Rate. The existing school district tax rate of $2.32 consists of $1.75 for education, 25 cents for building, two cents for transportation, 26.2 cents for bonds and interest and 4.3 cents for the retirement fund.

Based on assessed valuation of $182,144,630, each penny of tax rate provides $18,214 in yearly revenue.

The rate at which the 40 cents for education would be utilized depends on school board decisions. Three of the seven bond positions are to be voted upon in April 1965 and two more in April 1966. A school brochure distributed to citizens shows 12 cents used in 1964-67, 30 cents in 1967-68 and 40 cents in 1968-69 and thereafter.

Bond Retirement. How the bond and interest rate would be applied depends upon the bond retirement schedule to be established by the board. The schedule would be included in bond issue bid specifications prepared after the election.

The campaign brochure shows an initial bond rate increase of 12 cents, and the ballot specifies retirement of bonds within 20 years.

Retirement over 20 years with the cost spread evenly represents an average annual rate boost of 3 1/2 cents and total interest cost of $1,003,800.

However, use of a full 12-cent rate increase would retire the $2,390,000 bond issue in 12 years with $778,720 paid for interest (estimated at 4 1/2% but depending on the bond bids).

Third Plan Offers Saving. A third plan open to the school board would further reduce interest cost to $380,400—a saving of $623,400—and still retire the bonds in 12 years. A full 40-cent rate boost would be utilized immediately, with all of it applied to bonds in 1964-65 and 1965-66, 25 cents to bonds in 1966-67 and 10 cents to bonds in 1967-68.

This would still allow the 15-cent, 30-cent and 40-cent educational rate increases listed in the brochure, and the total tax boost in any year would be no higher than 40 cents, instead of 52 cents.

A 25-cent educational rate request was suggested by the Chamber of Commerce Education Committee and was supported by three school board members, but will not be part of the proposals submitted to voters next week.

REV. JOSEPH A. ENRIGHT of Brussels will begin his duties as pastor of Sacred Heart Church on May 26.

Rev. Enright to Begin Duties Here on May 26

Rev. Joseph A. Enright of Brussels will begin his duties as pastor of Sacred Heart Church here on May 26, he announced this week.

He was appointed to the post Monday by Most Rev. William A. O'Connor, bishop of Springfield, to succeed the late Rev. Msgr. Michael Costello, founder and pastor of Sacred Heart Church who died April 13 in St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Father Enright, who said he had been a friend of Monsignor Costello and had made periodic visits to the local parish, said he would be here earlier to move his belongings to the Sacred Heart rectory.

He has served as pastor of St. Mary's Church, Brussels, since 1950.

Born in Chicago on April 27, 1900, Father Enright attended Quigley Seminary there and was ordained Dec. 19, 1925, in Washington, D.C., by Bishop Thomas Shahan.

After six months at Catholic University in Washington, he returned to the Springfield diocese where he was appointed assistant pastor of Blessed Sacrament Church, Springfield, on June 6, 1928. He was named chaplain of St. Joseph's home, Springfield, Sept. 13, 1930, and superintendent of the Catholic Children's home in Alton on Jan. 7, 1932.

Father Enright was appointed assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Pana, in 1947, and named chaplain of St. Joseph's Hospital, Highland, and pastor of St. James Church, St. Jacob, on April 30, 1948. He was appointed pastor of St. Mary's, Brussels, on Jan. 17, 1950.

Two Latin Ensembles To Give Benefit Concert

Members of the two Latin American rhythm ensembles, directed by R. D. Todoroff, will be in the business district this weekend to sell tickets to a special benefit concert they will stage next Monday evening at Granite City high school auditorium.

The one-hour program will be the only public appearance of the older Granite City ensemble before it leaves in July for a tour of Mexico as guests of the Mexican government. The group is the same ensemble which two years ago captured Mexico City by storm.

The concert is to raise funds for train fare to and from the Mexican border and for incidental expenses. Once in Mexico, transportation and lodging will be provided by the Mexican government.

As a special feature during the concert, there will be brief welcoming address by Miss Anna Maria Harting of the Mexican consulate in St. Louis, and Daniel Linder, school board president.

Todoroff said the two ensembles will play Latin rhythms for most of the program, followed by American dance music. The two groups are known as the 23-member Granite City Latin American rhythm ensemble and the 21-member Coolidge Junior high school Latin American rhythm ensemble.

Appliance Franchises For Belmore Hdwe.

Thurl Jones, owner-manager of Belmore Hardware, is announcing this week the firm is the franchise dealer for sales and service of Amana air conditioners and refrigerators, Hamilton gas clothes dryers and automatic washers and Motorola radios and television.

Jones and Orville Hodge, sales manager, said displays of the appliances have been set up in the store at Belmore Village shopping center. They have been meeting this week with the manufacturers' representatives. The franchises formerly were held by H.R. Furniture store.

GC Policeman's Ball Set Friday at Dugout

The Granite City police department will hold its third annual policeman's ball at 9 p.m. Friday at the Venice-Madison American Legion Dugout.

Detective Ronald Veizer, chairman, said the event will be held in night-club style, a nine-piece orchestra will play for dancing and a floor show is being arranged.

Tickets are $1 each, and are available from any Granite City policeman and may be obtained at the door. Proceeds will benefit the police department's health and welfare fund.

Scholastic Honors For Norman T. Smith

Norman T. Smith, 2005 Richmond avenue, a junior at the Alton center of Southwestern Illinois University, was among 50 students there given recognition for scholastic achievements during honors day convocation Tuesday.

The speaker was Gerald Runkle, professor of philosophy, whose topic was "Dropping of the Object Everywhere."

Four Hubcaps Stolen

Eugene Ballew, Williams, Mo., reported at 6 p.m. Tuesday that four hubcaps were stolen from his 1961 auto while it was parked during the night in the 2200 block of Madison avenue.

Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone when he was 29 years old.

Seek School Funds For Court Test Of Rail Tax Values

Action was withheld by the Granite City school board Monday night on a request by the state's attorney's office that it join with other school districts in Madison county in providing $2500 to aid in railroad tax objection litigation. Another $2500 would be provided by the County Board of Supervisors.

Assistant State's Attorney Burton Bernard told the Press-Record yesterday that legal work will be handled by the salaried state's attorney staff. The $5000 would be used for travel expenses and to hire appraisal experts to compare assessments on railroads and other property.

A letter to the school board from Livingston School Supt. Marion A. Verton suggested that each school district provide $500 to $300. Funds not used would be refunded.

School Hall Damage
A report to the board showed that the first $1000 of April hail damage expenses will be met by the school district, with the remainder covered by insurance. The insurance coverage is $100 deductible per building or $1000 per occurrence.

Damage was extensive, with school employees making temporary roof repairs and replacing windows at some buildings and Quad-City Roofing Co. doing patching at Stallings school. Quad-City and Rogers will handle further repairs and replacement.

It was decided to hold Blackwell Wieland Co. to its original bid of $35 each in providing five work benches for Coolidge Junior high school.

Sign For GCHS Events
The board accepted a low bid of $4159 from Architectural Bronze Studio, St. Louis, on providing an illuminated sign to be placed at Nameeki road-Madison avenue on the lawn in front of the high school memorial gymnasium building. It will have on each side five rows of eight-inch-high letters that can be rearranged to announce athletic events, plays and other GCHS activities.

About $2000 will be paid by the school district; the remainder has been accumulated by school classes for the sign or has been donated by others specifically for the project.

Preparing for the next school year, the board reviewed bids and purchased $11,869 worth of custodial supplies from 19 firms, $8720 instructional supplies from 18 companies, $7262 worth of art supplies from 11 firms and 25 manual typewriters from Tri-angle Typewriter Co. for $2270, with a $108 portable typewriter purchased from Illinois Office Equipment Co.

Rubelman-Lucas, George A. Rubelman and Ben Schermer Hardware were designated as 1964-65 suppliers of specified types of hardware.

Lighting, Insurance
Dron Electrical Co. was authorized to install a new main lighting switch panel in the boiler room at GCHS on its low bid of $641. Veneers, Inc., St. Louis, will be the source of supply for laminated plastic sheets during the coming year.

Musical instrument "floaters policy" insurance was awarded to Charlotte McGrath, Granite City, agent for Lumberman's Mutual Casualty Co., on a three-year annual-payment bid of $780, less estimated dividend of $78. The Froemming Agency, representing Security Insurance Co., will provide equipment insurance for $153. Both actions were based on Tri-Cities Independent Insurance Agents Association recommendations.

Bids were opened on school letter awards, athletic equipment, small cafeteria equipment, dryer exhaust, book binding and typewriter maintenance. They were referred to the administrative staff.

Bills paid totaled $26,752 from the educational fund, $491 from the transportation fund, $220,138 from the bond and interest fund, $3992 from the building fund and $25,006 from the cafeteria fund.

Elected Fraternity President

William A. Russell II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Russell, 3125 Aubrey avenue, was recently elected president of Delta Psi Chapter of Eta Kappa Nu, honor fraternity for electrical engineers, at St. Louis University's Institute of Technology where he is a junior student.

OTHER WAYS TO GAIN SOME FLUORIDE BENEFITS
To the Editor:
Why don't they add aspirin to our drinking water to prevent headaches? It makes in a sense as adding fluoride to tooth decay. There are a lot of good ways to fight tooth decay without making everybody drink sodium fluoride.

It was researched and proven at Indiana University in 1935 that sodium fluoride mixed into toothpaste helps prevent tooth decay. Dr. why not support the distribution of fluoride tablets by the health department to parents wishing them for their children? Switzerland has fluoridated kitchen salt and fluoride milk. Poland, fluoridated tablets.

You can have your dentist apply 2% solution of sodium fluoride directly to the teeth to prevent decay.

Weddings, Births Leaping Ahead During Leap Year
The birthrate has been declining nationally for more than two years, but the end of the trend seems near, as the increase in marriages during the leap year and continuing in 1964; if this does not result in an increase in total births, we and a lot of statisticians will be greatly surprised.

Adding to the expectation for the current year is the fact that the Leap Year, not a leap year, but a leap year, is expected to bring about a larger number of weddings, but there was an extra day, Feb. 29.

One day may not seem like much, but we hasten to point out that Leap Year Day this year was a Saturday, the most popular day for embarking on wedding bliss. Marriages in February 1964, including its five Saturdays, totaled 121,000, compared to a mere 103,000 in February 1963.

Births in the 29-day month numbered 326,000 in the U. S., an increase of 12,000 over the same month last year. Quad-City mothers did their part by having 87 offspring, compared to 80 births in February a year ago.

Unsafe Vehicles Contribute To Many Traffic Accidents
Rising Illinois traffic deaths have prompted an intensified search for causes and remedies. A result has been new evidence suggesting that a large proportion of accidents than originally thought stems from use of vehicles in unsafe operating condition.

During May and June, a statewide Voluntary Vehicle Safety-Check Program is being conducted under sponsorship of the state government. The inspection of each auto should include brakes, front lights and turn signals, rear lights, including stop and turn signals, steering, tires, exhaust system, glass, windshield wipers and washers, rear-view mirrors, the horn and seat belts.

Although only 20 states have laws requiring periodic motor vehicle inspections, safety authorities believe that the traffic casualty rate could be reduced if all or nearly all cars were checked.

Mechanical failures and inefficiency of essential safety equipment have contributed to the fact that Illinois annually loses more persons to auto accidents than it did servicemen during the entire Korean war. Each motorist can help curtail this tragic trend by not only driving carefully and skillfully but also making sure that his vehicle and its accessories are in good condition to respond quickly and smoothly as he drives.

Fast Pace In Venice Municipal Projects
Acquisition of the McKinley Bridge was a major undertaking in the early years of the present Venice city administration. But, as Mayor Lee has noted at the beginning of the new fiscal year, there seems to be a new urgency in the volume of pending municipal business.

Since the construction of a spacious street department garage, interest has centered on efforts to create an auto-train grade separation near the Broadway crossing. A deep look into the past will turn to a new fire station, paving the way for remodeling of the city hall.

The busy schedule of current events, also is viewed as an indication of the gains that can be made within a relatively short span of time by a governmental agency and a community.

Earthquake Like End Of World
What it is like to be involved in a major earthquake has been related graphically to Miss Edna Isham, 2800 State street, in a letter from her cousin, Mrs. Lillian Poor, who has resided in Alaska for the past 15 years and lived in Granite City until moving to Decatur, Ill., 40 years ago.

The former Lillian "Thorn" Poor, she is the wife of C. Poor, an Alaska railroad employee. They have no children.

Discussing the earthquake, Mrs. Poor relates, "Some people are calling it the Endless Day" (some call it "D-Day" (disaster day). But whatever they call it, it was five minutes which was it.

"Some ask if it is a motor or what. When you tell them, 'It is a house on fire,' they say, 'What's the matter?' Is the city ashamed of it. It doesn't suit us at all."

Maybe they are ashamed. At least, I'm ashamed to tell them it's a fire house and then quote them the price I'm no longer a member of the fire house, but of the price.

To top it off, another one is to be built. The cost is high, considering the equipment to be used. They should cut down on the building and put in good equipment. We have a lot of money in the pen, but out of the fire, not a fire house or shopplace.

There is still a big question they are asking: "What is the elaborate building on the corner of 23rd and Madison ave."

Local Area And Locks Sunday
Local residents can partially train themselves as "good will ambassadors" and tourism promoters by attending the annual spring meeting of the Madison County Historical Society Sunday afternoon at the main of Rock Island.

Statistical information on the locks—one of the principal local attractions—will be presented by Lockmaster Elliott. Future river development plans will be presented by executive of the Mississippi Valley Association. And major historical facts relating to Granite City, Nameoki and Venice townships will be given by Associate Circuit Judge Lewis.

History can be of great interest, particularly when it is the history of one's home community, as Quad-City and Madison county residents learned two years ago during observance of the 1812-1815 Bicentennial. A deep look into the past will be afforded Sunday by the Historical Society, which has honored this area by selecting it as the site of its 1964 public program.

SAFEGUARD YOUR HEALTH
A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE ILLINOIS STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY

PARENTS: HELP STAMP OUT RHEUMATIC FEVER
Rheumatic fever is one of the most deadly diseases of childhood, accounting for more deaths between the ages of 10 and 14 than any other disease.

It strikes two percent of all children; causes 10 times as many deaths as polio; and is responsible for 90% of all heart disease in patients under 20.

This terrifying profile, rheumatic fever can be kept in its tracks—with a little medicine and a free time in reporting this fact to your doctor. Rheumatic fever is caused by a specific type of streptococcus called "beta hemolytic," which frequently invades the heart valves and causes a sore throat.

The common supposition that rheumatic fever follows only severe sore throats with raging fever is the classic "strep throat" is incorrect. Even a mild sore throat can harbor the deadly beta hemolytic strep.

Prompt medical attention will detect this disease, organize treatment and permit your doctor to knock it out with penicillin or other antibiotics. These drugs must be given not only for the two or three days during which the child feels ill, but for at least 10 days or until all of the offending streptococci have been eliminated.

Damage Immediate
After the streptococcus of rheumatic fever has struck the heart valves, the damage has been done. All that can be done is to protect your child from further heart damage due to subsequent attacks.

This protection frequently requires a regular regimen of sulfa drugs or penicillin which must be taken for long periods of time, often until adulthood.

The threat of rheumatic fever is considered so grave that the Chicago Board of Health recently has initiated a free throat culture service for all citizens of Cook County.

Child Study
Whenever a child has a sore throat, Chicago area parents are advised to swab the throat with a piece of cotton and mail it to the Board of Health, where a culture study is made and reported to the parent.

In many other areas throughout Illinois, private laboratories can make these culture studies at a nominal charge.

Of course, none of these services can do any good—unless parents cooperate by reporting their children's sore throats immediately. The consequences of not doing so will be a life of invalidism for your child.

Primary Metals Leading Product
Primary metals industries accounted for 84 million of the $73.3 million manufacturing production in Madison county during the past year, newly-released data on the Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area disclosed.

There are 21 such firms. They also led in number of employees—3,883 of the 40,000 manufacturing establishments also included 13 machinery firms with 781 workers and $4.1 million production; four transportation equipment plants with $3.8 million production; and three miscellaneous manufacturers with 3320 employees and $3.1 million in products; three leather and leather products firms with 3810 workers and $2.2 million production; 14 stone, clay and glass products firms with 1355 employees and $1.9 million in goods; 21 food firms with 1466 workers and $16 million in products; and 17 fabricated metal products plants with 1036 employees and $4.1 million production.

Apparel, Lumber, Chemicals
Others in the listing were 21 paper and allied products companies with 1000 workers and $6 million production; 12 apparel and related products firms, 1979 and $4 million; 25 printing and publishing companies, 549 and $5 million; four lumber and wood products firms, 82 and $2 million; and three furniture, fixtures plants, 14 chemical and allied products companies, five petroleum and coal products firms, five plastic and rubber goods producers, five electrical machinery firms and one instrument and related products company.

A payroll at the 203 plants averaged to $250,867,000, an average of $745 a year for the 40,184 employees.

New county expenditures in Madison county of $38 million—representing over 36% of all expenditures for manufacturing in the Illinois-Missouri metropolitan statistical area—were accounted for by machinery firms, $24 million; primary metal products plants, $12 million; transportation equipment, $8 million; paper and allied products, $5 million; and food and kindred products, $2 million.

50TH ANNIVERSARY OF COOPERATIVE EXTENSIONS

The 50th birthday of cooperative extension work in agriculture and home economics is being observed this month.

Cooperative extension work which some have called the world's most effective educational system, came into being on May 8, 1914, with the signing of the Smith-Lever Act.

Today, 50 years later, extension work is carried out by a professional staff of less than 15,000 and reaches into nearly all of the 3150 counties in the United States. Much of its effectiveness is made possible with the help of more than 1,000,000 local lay leaders who help direct and carry out this work. County extension councils work with the county extension staff in developing the local program.

Extension is financed through federal, state and local funds. In the present biennial budget, these figures for Illinois are: 57% federal funds, 43% state funds and 20% local trust funds. This extends to the educational programs, too, with heavy emphasis on the state and county.

In each state the sponsoring institution is the land-grant college, operating under a memorandum of understanding covering the cooperative relationships between the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the state. The land-grant college in Illinois is the University of Illinois, and all cooperative extension personnel are staff members of the university.

The first county agent, or farm adviser as the agents are called in Illinois, was William G. Eckhardt, appointed on June 1, 1912, as adviser in DeKalb County. The first county home adviser to carry on home demonstration work was Eva Bennefield, appointed in Kankakee County in 1914.

Never before has new knowledge emerged so rapidly or become obsolete so fast. It is the Cooperative Extension Service that provides the educational system for moving new truths from the colleges and experiment stations out to the people who can use them.

Pre-emergence herbicides have become increasingly popular for controlling early weeds. Many farmers have asked when to cultivate after using them.

Odds are about 3 to 1 that pre-emergence herbicides will do a satisfactory job. But they can fail, especially when not enough rain falls to move them into the soil.

If the chemical is controlling weeds, don't rush cultivation of the treated area. If you banded the herbicide over the row, cultivate it too soon or too close to the row may throw new seeds into the treated area and reduce the benefits from the chemical.

On the other hand, if for some reason the herbicide is not killing weeds, better not wait too long to start cultivating or hoeing.

If you applied one of the more pre-emergence herbicides, such as Randox or 2,4-D, at planting time and it hasn't "taken hold" within two weeks—chances are that the chemical isn't going to work. In such cases, you'd better move in with a rotary hoe or cultivator to get the early weeds.

If you used one of the longer lasting chemicals, such as atrazine, weeds will sometimes begin to grow and then die as the chemical is eventually taken up by the small weeds. Here again it's risky to wait too long, hoping that the chemical will do the job. It might not. But the longer lasting chemical will do the job. It might not. But the longer lasting chemicals give you some flexibility.

You can clean up the first crop of weeds with the rotary hoe or row cultivator if weather permits. Then you may still get some benefit from the chemical on later weeds.

In research at the University of Illinois, agronomists found that rotary hoeing with the row about two weeks after planting had little effect—good or bad—on performance of most of the pre-emergence chemicals that were used.

Will your investment be a total loss if you use the shovel cultivator to get the first crop of weeds? Not necessarily. A longer lasting chemical, such as atrazine, may remain to help control later weeds even if it did not work on the first crop of weeds. You'll throw new weed seeds on top of the chemical band, but as these seeds germinate and the roots of the weeds reach the chemical, you may still get some benefit.

If you can't cultivate because it's too wet and the chemical is controlling the weeds well, be thankful that you used it. If the chemical isn't working, weeds are growing and it's dry enough, cultivate—don't wait.

ELM LEAF BEETLE SOON TO EMERGE

Elm leaf beetle will become a problem soon, as the first generation begins to emerge in June. This insect does not attack the beleaguered American elm, but concentrates only on the Chinese elm.

The adult is about one-quarter inch long with yellow legs and an antenna. The body is yellow to green, with no distinct markings.

These beetles hibernate over the winter in protected places in dwellings or other buildings. During the spring, the female lays her eggs on the underside of the leaves. The larvae feed for three weeks and then mature in the cracks of the bark or other crevices.

Spray with lead arsenate or sevin for control, about the time the leaves are fully developed or as soon as damage becomes evident. Follow label directions.

Signs identifying the different varieties have been erected at the wheat variety test plots grown by James Winet in Marine Township and Bergmann-Taylor Seed Co., St. Joseph. The wheat has been growing very fast, will soon head out and some interesting differences in the varieties are showing up. Stop and see them.

A twilight meeting to demonstrate proper adjustment and operation of sprayers to apply the new insecticide sevin to sweet corn will be held at the farm of William and Homer Burns in Nanticoke township the evening of May 20.

Corn planting is getting underway. Vernon Minter, of Leet township was one of the first farmers to plant. Two and three plantings of sweet corn are already up and growing fast on farms in the commercial sweet corn area in the Collinsville-Granite City section. Soybeans will be planted on most farms as soon as the corn planting is done.

Compulsory ROTC to Be Dropped at U. Of I.

A new Air Force officer training program for college men at the University of Illinois will be instituted next semester. Lt. Col. Russell Strange, head of the U. of I. department of air science, announced.

In the past, all male students at the U. of I. have been required to take two years of ROTC as a part of the university requirements for graduation. For the first time this fall, ROTC will be offered on a voluntary basis.

Strange said the Air Force believes that the question of compulsory ROTC should be the prerogative of the educational institution, and the Air Force is pleased to see the voluntary program go into effect.

Compulsory ROTC has been inadequate in achieving the primary objective in producing officers to fill specific requirements of the active Air Force, he said. The advanced program has always been voluntary, "the officer leadership of the United States forces must always be voluntary and freely given if we are to survive as a free people," Colonel Strange said.

3 GC Students To Get Degrees At Eastern U.

Three Granite City students will receive bachelor's degrees at commencement exercises set for 3 p.m. May 24 at Eastern Illinois University, Charleston.

They are Peter Michael Geovese Jr. and Margaret Holland Pennell, who will receive bachelor's degrees in education degrees, and Robert David Roberts, who will receive a bachelor's degree in science degree.

About 445 undergraduates and 28 graduate students will form the largest graduating class at the university. Dr. Quincy Doudna, Eastern president, will deliver the charge to the class.

New 18-Hole Arlington Golf Course Scheduled To Open June 1

By Press-Record Staff Photographer

Private Club's $350,000 Project Has Large Greens, Watered Fairways, Shop

A badly-needed addition to Quad-City sports facilities, most local golfers agree, is scheduled to open Monday morning, June 1.

The Arlington Golf Club, located on Black Lane between Granite City and Collinsville not far from the intersection of Routes 111 and 35, is one of the first 18-hole courses and the third (the Granite City Army Depot course and Sunset Hills Country Club are the others) in the immediate Quad-City area.

The private club is still selling supplementary memberships, available to persons recommended by charter members, for $12.

"But we will see that the course doesn't become crowded," said Avery Schermer, club president. Other officers are Kelly Duto, vice-president, and Mike Sosyk, secretary-treasurer.

The course has been in the planning stages since 1961, Schermer said, and the plans were jelled in February 1963. Construction began last June and now the finishing touches are being applied.

170-Acre Course

The club, a division of Golf-Club Development Corp., has 200 acres at its disposal. Of the total, 170 acres will be in the course proper with the remainder used for parking, practice areas and other facilities.

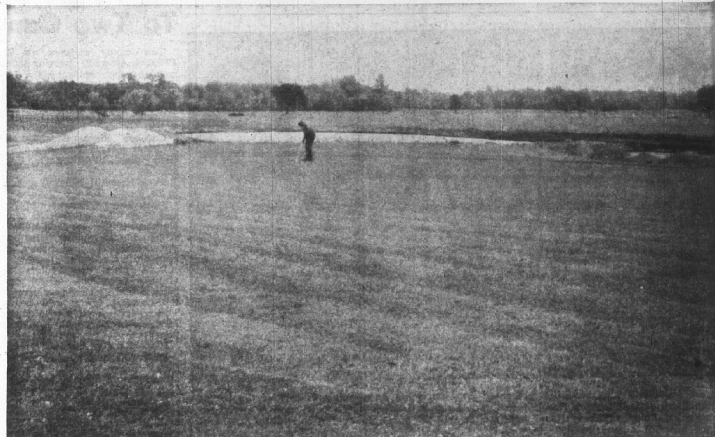

A 48-by-48 foot building, scheduled for completion next week, will house a pro shop, refreshment stand and bar. Projected for the future — 1965, perhaps — are a large heated swimming pool and tennis courts.

Hard by the new course, a subdivision is springing up but Schermer said construction is by a different corporation.

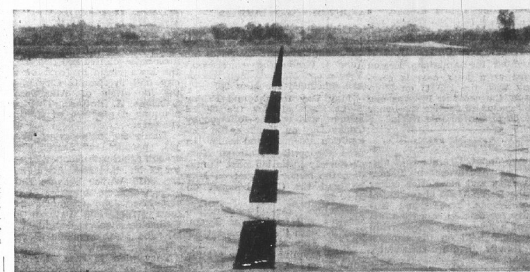

The championship course has greens ranging from 7500- to 10,000 square feet. Yardages are 6433 from the red tees, 6720 from the white tees and 7164 from the championship tees which will be installed next fall.

Park Leagues Named For Loftus, Holland

Two new names will appear on the Granite City park district's list of boys' baseball leagues this summer.

They are the Joe Loftus League, a Bantam Division hoop, and the Jim Holland League, a Midget circuit.

The Joe Loftus League was formerly known as the Rogers Hornsby League and was renamed in honor of the late Mr. Loftus, who was a longtime coach and manager in the park district leagues.

The Jim Holland League is a new addition this summer and was named in honor of the first winner of the annual park district appreciation award in 1960. Holland donated much of the equipment to build baseball diamonds at Wilson Park.

Three Games Slated For Tavern League

After a Mother's Day holiday, the Tavern Softball League resumes play at 10:30 a.m. Sunday with three games.

The schedule finds Lakeside Inn vs. Polish Hall at Wilson Park, Joe & Tony's vs. Buzz's at the Third street field and Liberty Home vs. Sportsman's Club at the 12th street diamond. The Bowland team has a day off.

The league opened play May 3 and the regular season ends Aug. 23. Playoffs are slated for Sept. 13, 20 and 27.

'Y' Pool Gets Starting Blocks

Starting blocks of gleaming aluminum have been added to the YMCA's indoor swimming pool.

The new blocks were built on a volunteer basis by Clarence McKeel sr., 2714 Cayuga street. His son, Clarence jr., is a member of the YMCA Swamp Angels competitive swim team.

Clarence jr. had noticed that the Swamp Angels were handicapped slightly in district and state competition due to lack of experience in using starting blocks.

"That's when his father, an automotive mechanic at W. H. Metal Products Co., Madison, took over. He was able to purchase aluminum at a special employee rate, and began work at home.

He designed the construction of the blocks, the patterns, and shaped the individual parts. Lacking proper equipment, he persuaded Fred Reetz, owner of a local welding shop, to do the helium-arc welding at cost.

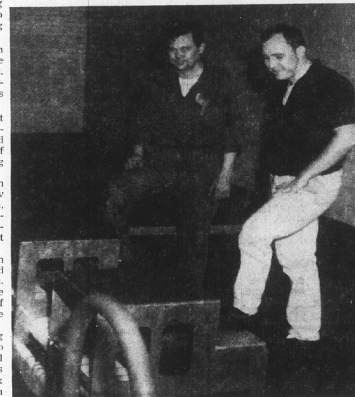

Each of the four starting blocks was individually fitted to slight irregularities in the pool deck, and special attachments were fitted so that each block may be securely fastened in place and yet be removed for storage in a few seconds.

Assisted by his son and Fred McCulligan, swimming coach, McKeel counted all exposed metal edges and applied rubber guards to edges exposed to the pool.

The final step was application of non-skid contact paper to both the step and platform of each block.

As a result of McKeel's 45 hours of labor, the 'Y' now has just completed value of $300. Total cost to the organization was $20 for welding.

The starting blocks are estimated to have a useful life of a year.

STARTING BLOCKS for the YMCA swimming pool were constructed by Clarence McKeel sr. (left). Admiring two of the new blocks is Fred McCulligan, swimming instructor.

a facility which has an estimated 25 years. Dan Smith, YMCA program director, estimates at least 1000 competitive swimmers will use the blocks during that period. The blocks also will be used in swimming instruction classes.

DOWNSTATE FISHERMAN'S GUIDE

by C. A. FRAZER

(Compiled from area reports by the Southern Illinois University Information Service.)

High winds kept the lakes and ponds of southern Illinois virtually deserted throughout most of last week, but fishermen concentrated a lot of pent-up energy on the waters during the weekend. Saturday's reports were uniformly good but by Sunday the fish had become more wary and, despite near-perfect weather, few were brought to net.

Highlights of the week were good reports on the bluegill from Horseshoe Lake, a feeding spree for bluegills in Devils Kitchen Lake, and, in usual, Little Grass Lake yielded the largest bass. Cline Seelcher, boat dock operator at Devils Kitchen, said most of the bass fishermen switched to bluegill tactics when they discovered the feeding spree was on, and some of the bluegills ran as fast as a man fish went as heavy as 14 ounces. Worms and crickets were the favorite baits and the fish were caught in brush piles at depths from four feet to 18 feet.

Caution Advisable

He warned that fishermen trying the shallower spots had to use caution in approaching as not to spook the fish. "You couldn't run up with the motor, or splash around with a paddle, or anchor and expect to find the fish waiting," he said.

Best flyrod fishing for bass and pan fish was at Lake of Egypt, where streamers, grubs and poppers yielded small to medium sized fish. Largest bass reported was 3 1/2 pounds, caught by a fisherman from nearby Marion.

Little Grass Lake produced a 7 1/2 pound bass for James Aaron of Marion on a deep running lure while Gene Vest, also of Marion, was runner-up with a 6-pounder, caught on a surface lure. Bill Besley of Benton, George Rose of St. Louis and C. Blessing of Carbondale tallied with 5-pounders while Andy Markus of Aviston, Cole Warren of West Frankfort and Bill Schoedler of Carbondale were credited with fish topping four pounds.

Good Yields

Lake Murphysboro continues to yield good fish despite its low level and murky condition. The result of drainage last winter to remove rough fish and weeds. Most fishermen visiting the lake were from Murphysboro, although Mrs. Agnes Counts of East St. Louis landed a 5 1/2-pound bass and Dan Deaver of Belleville caught a 4-pounder. Largest fish of the week was a 6-pound bass caught at dark Sunday night by Joe Odum of Murphysboro. Five pounders were caught by Louis Johnson and Jack Perrone and Kenneth Griffin, all of Murphysboro.

Horseshoe Lake bluegills have a yen for crickets, and Jeff Berryhill and son, Wayne, of Cairo, caught more than a hundred in four hours, running up to three-quarters of a pound. George Moran of Mound City took a mixed string of 176 crappie, striped bass and bluegills. There are few black bass fishermen working the lake although an occasional one will take a crappie minnow.

Crab Orchard Lake was whipped by strong south and southwest winds throughout the week.

They Called Them Primer's

JOHN W. ALLEN
Southern Illinois University

McGuffey's Readers and Webster's "Blue-Back Speller," once the most used school text in America, both saw great use in southern Illinois. It is a rare occasion now, however, when a copy of either is found hidden away in some closet, trunk, attic or in some dark corner of an old home.

This rarity seems strange when one stops to consider the fact that approximately 125 million of the Readers and 24 million spellers went into the hands of pupils during the days when they were basic texts.

Even before the days of McGuffey and Webster, there was another school text that is easily among the all-time greats. Perhaps where its total influence is considered it is "the" great one.

That was the "New England Primer," more than 3 million copies of which were printed before 1800. With the small population at that time it was a tremendous circulation.

Undoubtedly some copies of this text were brought to the region by those coming from the New England section to settle here. So far as is known not one copy has been found in Illinois. Hence we can only assume that it happened in southern Illinois.

Those acquainted with the McGuffey and Webster texts readily see the effects left by the New England Primer. At the very least it gave us the word primer as a name for a first reading text regularly used in school.

Purpose Of Primers
Primers, at least the earlier ones, were not purposely written with the thought that they were to be used to teach reading. They were meant as books of private devotion that appeared soon after the printing from type began.

Before that time books copied by pen and brush were rare and costly. Few had opportunity to read, then the practice of printing from type came the cost of books was greatly reduced and they became more common. More people began to read. This became particularly true with the Bible.

As more people began to read the Scriptures, it was only natural that individual interpretations increased in number and variety. It was the purpose of both king and clergy to guide and direct thought in acceptable channels. The primer served this purpose well.

Features intended to help new readers were included. Among the helps offered was the alphabet in the styles then used and a few pages of curious word fragments called "Easy syllables for children." The primer thus became a text for teaching reading as well as one to shape and direct religious thought.

The belief that the alphabet could be taught best by jingles came early. Many of these, ranging from "A" with its couplet—"In Adam's Fall We sinned all"—to "Z" with—"Zacchaeus he Did climb the Tree Our Lord to see"—were little through the centuries.

Variety Of Insects
Most changes were in the filler material made up of proverbs, warnings, scriptural quotations and dire prophecies, inserted between main portions of the primer, that consisted of the church creed, the ten commandments, bits of philosophy, the Lord's prayer, the Golden Rule, a few selected psalms and a catechism to be memorized. Even these varied little. One feature of the New England Primer should not be forgotten. That was the very effective use of little illustrations.

One would hardly call the New England Primer with its threats of dire and eternal punishments awaiting those who ignored or violated its precepts a cheerful book. None of its contents was meant to provoke so much as a smile. There were bits that might be termed neutral, like—

Whirls in the Sea
The Cat doth play
And after slay

The following are more typical:

Xerxes did die,
And thus came to pass
As runs the Glass
Man's life doth pass.

Time cut down all
Both great and small.
Liars shall have their Part in The Lake.

Which burns with fire and Brimstone.
The Crocodile with watery Eyes
O' Man and every creature cries

Perhaps it was from this one that the expression "crocodile tears" came into use.

The thoughts set forth in the primer had much effect on later readings and spelling texts where they again appeared, somewhat softened, but always attempting to point out a moral. The New England Primer undoubtedly did much to make Puritans of the New Englanders and in a diminishing ratio of the rest of us.

Poppy Days Will Be Observed May 22-23

Poppy Days will be held in the Quad-Cities May 22-23 by American Legion Posts 113 and 307 and their Auxiliaries who will sell Memorial Poppies, and Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3300 and Auxiliary who will sell Buddy Poppies.

The Poppies will be sold on street corners throughout the area on the two days with funds to go for service and relief work among needy disabled veterans and their dependents.

Officers of the veterans post point out that a number of veterans have been hospitalized for many years—since early days of world wars I and II and the Korean conflict—and that a way to remember them is by wearing a Poppy.

Then spoke Jesus again unto them, saying, "I am the light of the world: he that followeth Me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life."—John 8:12

Mecca Studies Open Dump Air Pollution Problems

Members of MECCA (Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce) and Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, represented the local plan further study of several proposals involving the Madison County area — such as the effect of open dump fires on air pollution, the development of an industrial promotion organization with St. Louis county and a proposal for consolidation of governmental agencies in the two counties.
 President Edward Fellner of Belleville presided over the MECCA meeting held Monday night at the Rose Bowl restaurant, attended by 17 members.
 He reported that the mayors of local communities are to meet in the near future to prepare plans for either meeting a state-set Aug. 28 deadline to halt operation of open dumps or to seek an extension in an effort to work out a solution. All three cities now operate open dumping areas off Route 203 south of Madison, where there also is considerable dumping from East St. Louis and St. Louis.
 James Reed, manager of the East St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, submitted a report on the possibility of developing an industrial promotion organization with St. Louis county, but it was decided further data is needed.
 The members also expressed opinions that the proposed governmental agency consolidation recommended at a recent meeting of the Southwestern Illinois Council of Mayors would not occur in the near future.
 Francis Karr, manager of the Greater Alton Association of Commerce, reported that Region 8 of Tourism Promotion will be short of its goal in raising funds for a joint program with state matching funds to promote tourism in Illinois. Locally, the Chamber of Commerce committee is preparing a booklet and will erect billboards to call attention to places of interest in the Quad-Cities and vicinity.
 MECCA is to meet again in two months.

Richard Jasudowicz Enlists in Navy
